LATE WITHDRAWALS

Please note, All withdrawals submitted after the Withdrawal Deadline are considered "late", and are subject to penalty under the ITF Code of Conduct. (Please read the Women's ITF World Tennis Tour Regulations and Code of Conduct)

- * The first three late withdrawals in a calendar year are not penalised by the ITF and the fines will be cancelled with a "withdrawal amnesty", provided the player withdraws prior to the Qualifying Sign-in Deadline (Players that do not submit a withdrawal form will receive a No Show penalty). Starting on the 4th late withdrawal and onwards, all players will receive a late withdrawal penalty, which includes a fine.
- * Players that withdraw to play another tournament (example: WTA) after the Withdrawal Deadline are penalised by the ITF for playing another tournament and therefore players should withdraw from all ITF tournaments they no longer wish to play before the Withdrawal Deadline.

Note: Players that need to withdraw for injury/illness should use their three free late withdrawals

- * Only valid medical certificates obtained at ITF World Tennis Tour and WTA Tour Tournaments that meet the specific circumstances and regulations of the Women's ITF World Tennis Tour will be considered.
- * For full details about the procedures and consequences of late withdrawals please refer to the Women's ITF World Tennis Tour Regulations Rules and Code of Conduct, available within IPIN or on the ITF website.
